

PAULA ROSADO PUBLIC RELATIONS

Client: Hello Pasta

Publication: AM New York

Date: July 15, 2010

Circulation: 323,000

OPENINGS

NOW OPEN

> M. Wells: The food at this new retro-style diner goes way beyond standard diner fare. Chef Hugue Dufour's "Quebeco-American" menu will feature frogs' legs and foie gras tamales. The star at breakfast is an egg sausage sandwich, shown above, on a homemade English muffin with house-pickled jalapenos. 21-17 49th Ave. at 21st St., Long Island City, 718-425-6917. (Currently open Mon.-Fri., 7 a.m.-3 p.m. Dinner and weekend

~~service will begin soon.~~

> Hello Pasta: This new spot specializes in customizable, fast-food-style pasta. Customers can choose from four types of pastas and lots of sauces. The midtown location is the first of four that will open in the city. 649 Lexington Ave., btwn 54th and 55th sts., 212-557-2782

> Moritas
After a long delay, Adam Schop has opened a 200-seat South American restaurant and ceviche bar. The menu spans Argentina, Brazil, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru and Venezuela, and includes small plates, entrees and items to be shared by the whole table. 43 W. 24th St., 212-929-1200 (open)